JULY, 1788.

LONGMAN and BRODERIP,

MANUFACTURERS
OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
AND
MUSIC-SELLERS
TO
HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS
THE PRINCE OF WALES;

No. 26, CHEAPSIDE, and No. 13, HAYMARKET,

L O N D O N;

Manufacture and Sell, Wholesale, Retail, and for Exportation,

By the KING's ROYAL LETTERS PATENT,

PATENT PIANOFORTES.

The Construction of these Instruments exceeds all others in respect to the Touch and Simplicity of it, which can never fail in the Operation; and their Clearness and Brilliancy of Tone is far superior to Conception. Soon as the Hammer strikes the Strings, it immediately falls back; whereas, in other Instruments, the Hammer dances on the Jack, and occasions a jarring Noise in the Tone. They are easily kept in Regulation, and have met the general Approbation of the most esteemed Masters.

PATENT GRAND PIANO FORTES.

By the Invention of the Patent Action (though simple in its Construction), these Instruments are now brought to the highest Perfection in respect to Touch and Tone, with this peculiar Advantage, that the Movements will neither rattle, stick, nor be the least affected by Change of Weather in any Climate.

A PATENT TUNING MACHINE,
So peculiarly constructed, that Ladies and Gentlemen may tune their Harpsichords, Piano Fortes, Organs, Guitars, &c. with great Facility.

PATENT PIANO-FORTE GUITARS,
On an entire new Principle, different from any others, and divested of that awkward Appearance which the temporary Key-Box forms on the Belly of the Instrument: The Machinery is also so curiously constructed, that it acts with amazing Facility, and produces a Tone far beyond Conception, and nearly equal to that of a Piano Forte. The Machinery may be drawn out with Ease, to rectify any Impediment in the Movement. The great Demand for them, in preference to others, plainly evinces their superlative Degree of Merit.

PORTABLE GRAND PIANO FORTES,
On a new Improvement, reduced in Size and Price considerably under the original Grand Piano Forte, and universally admired for their peculiar Brilliancy of Tone, and excellent Quality of standing long in Tune.

PORTABLE CLAVECINS,
On two different Principles. Their Tones are remarkably sweet and delicate; and their Structure renders them agreeable for travelling with, as they may be conveyed, and even performed on, in a Coach.

CHURCH ORGANS

Of every Dimension, Specimens of which may be seen at Hampstead Church; at St. Gregory's Church, Old Fish-Street, near St. Paul's; at the Manufactory opposite the Tabernacle, Tottenham-Court-Road, and at their other Manufactories in the City.

N.B. Parish and Proprietors of Chapels and Concert Rooms may be accommodated with an Organ of any Size and Price; and, if not convenient to make immediate Purchase, may pay an annual Rent for the same; also, if required, an Organist will be appointed on such Terms.
